

You'll Need:

1. Driver's license or certified copy of birth certificate
2. $36 (cash only) for the application
3. Parents' full names, including the mothers' maiden names, and the states where they were born

Plus:

1. If either of you is under 18, bring your parents or legal guardian to sign consent (they'll need proper documentation and identification, too). There's a three-day waiting period after you apply.
2. If either of you has been divorced, you'll need to know the final divorce date.
3. If one of you is a widow or widower, you'll need to know the date of your spouse's death.

And, You Must:

1. Be married by someone who is authorized to perform the marriage rites in West Virginia.
2. Be married within 60 days of the date on your marriage certificate.
3. Be married in West Virginia.
4. Apply in the same county where you live (if you live in West Virginia).